Any one of the three could constitute a stumbling block.

The outstanding fact is that co-operation between the companies and the government is apparently sanctioned, at least in principle, by the former. If this is the case, even if negotiations drag on for a while, it will tend to lessen the international strain.

The Parent Problem By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

REACTION OF PARENTS TO MOVIES

Included in the series of pubic forums I have led in various parts of the United States is one on, "The Movies and Our Children." Having conducted this particular forum in more than 50 places from coast to coast, I have been impressed with the uniformity of response by parents. Even the parents almost in the shadow of Hollywood look at these problems about as do the parents of New Jersey, Indiana, or Utah. Some of their conclusions are recorded in the following paragraphs.

One opinion is that there are some very good pictures for children and adults, but that often along with the best some very undesirable pictures often appear on the same program, and that the pre-views are not always wholesome for children.

Most parents prefer a single main picture a night together with a news reel, many also like the short comic film. They sense that the local distributor would be glad to limit the

The ancients believed the stars influenced influenza. Hence the name - influenza

Certainly influenza influences the human body. It is a highly contagious specific infection.

It occurs in general epidemics which spread rapidly. Influenza is self-limiting and of short duration. In itself it is rarely fatal. Secondary infection of the lungs often leads to serious ends. Simple uncomplicated influenza has characteristic symptoms. Chills, extreme general malaise, aching pains. Prostration is almost always pres-

Still Find Eagles In Delaware Valley

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, March 27.-The fast-disappearing American eagle symbol of American democracy, is still found in the Delaware valley.

Farmers living in that area and tourists often come to town with reports of having seen the great bird soaring majestically high above the countryside—especially in the winter months

The American eagle, whose real name is the bald eagle, was officially proclaimed to be the national bird of the United States on June 20, 1782, and was inscribed on the national coat-of-arms. He is also found on the obverse side of a halfdollar, holding in his beak a scroll inscribed with the motto, "E Pluribus Unum."

He'll say...Look what it says on the back of the package...

EXPECTED REPRIEVE UNTIL FINAL HOUR

> (International News Service) BELLEFONTE, Pa., March 27 -Confidently awaiting his 16th reprieve up until the last minute, Roy Lockard, 27, mentally deficient "tattle tale slayer" of three-year old Matthew "Sonny" Karmendi, early today went to his death in the electric chair.

Shortly after midnight, the Altoona murderer walked silently and grimly into the death chamber between two guards. As he sat in the death chair his face turned ash Lockard took all the blame for the white. In silence he watched the crime upon himself, but she was, adjusted the straps.

mobile, but under questioning of suspicious authorities Lockard broke down and confessed.

No Last Statement

Lockard entered the death chamber accompanied by Chaplain C. F. Laner, who read the 25th Psalm Lockard, however, did not repeat the Psalm and prayer. Laner afterwards said that Lockard had made no last ers. Lockard was visited by his father, stepmother, two sisters, a brother and an uncle, all of Altoona yesterday afternoon.

The group held a tearful service and offered prayers outside of the day death row. The body was claimed by the father and was taken to Altoona this morning after the usual post mortem. Private funeral serv- engage in business, writing, painting printing press by horseback from ces were planned.

Lockard still had hopes of another reprieve when he was brought here. Looking at the sheriff, he said: "Wouldn't it be funny if the sheriff had to come back and take me back to my old cell?'

Throughout the ordeal he maintained the indifference he has shown in the last three years. Although witnesses and newspapermen anxiously awaited a last minute statement, Lockard went to his death in silence.

Read an article the other day and it concerned all of us. It told about the posture of the folks of today. Take a look at the women and men that walk our streets. How do they walk? Gracefully or do they lean forward and drag their legs after them. Is their head over their shoulder, their shoulder over their abdomen and that are the majority of the folks we see walk are slightly bent forward.

Some will say that is caused by walking up our steep hills. We can't agree with that reasoning . . . some folks never walk up a
